Practice addresses and appointments

My practice is based at Office 6, 14 Albany Street, Edinburgh EH1 3QB. It is close to the National Portrait Gallery and St. Andrew Square and near to all public transport connections. The practice is on the second floor accessed by stairs. Please note there is no wheelchair access. As there is no waiting room please arrive punctually at the agreed time.

Appointments take place at a time mutually agreed at the initial interview. The initial interview is an opportunity to explore the presenting issues in the wider context of one's life and whether psychotherapy or counselling can help with this. All appointments are for 50 minutes. Client choice is paramount, and sessions can be ended at any given time in discussion with the therapist.

Online sessions

In exceptional circumstances I can offer psychotherapy sessions remotely by using a secure online video conferencing service. Where this has been the agreed way of working the client will be sent unique log in details and a password to such a service.

For all online sessions, clients are expected to have access to a private and confidential room where they will not be disturbed by others for the duration of the session. In using online services there can, on occasion, occur technological break down either temporarily or permanently. It is important that the client has access to a phone so that they can be contacted when this happens. Similarly, the therapist will always have a telephone available during the sessions.

Electronic and digital messaging

In between sessions it may be necessary for me to contact you either by email or text messaging. While I will minimise the content of messages to that which is most essential, it is important that you ensure your sole access to such messaging. Where it is deemed necessary to include confidential information, I will do so in a separately attached and password protected document.

Fees

£ 65.00 per 50-minute session.

Fees will be charged for all sessions including the initial interview. Payment both in cash, and via bank transfer will be accepted. Payment by bank transfer is to be received 24 hours prior to the appointed time. Payment can be made to the account in the name of Theodorus Dijkman, account number 88484188, sort code 60 83 71. Please include session date in the reference with the payment.

Cancellations and holidays

One full week's notice is required for cancellation of a booked session. Cancellations within less than one week will be charged at £ 35.00 or with less than 24 hours' notice, the full fee.

A retainer will be charged for long-term absences of clients in ongoing therapy. Fees will not be charged if cancelled by the therapist.

Client records, confidentiality and data protection

Basic client contact information including relevant medical information where necessary will be kept on file and only be used in relation to your psychotherapy.

All sessions are confidential and in line with the UKCP Code of Ethics. Copies of this code can be supplied on request or accessed via the following link
